Craig Smith

Singer/songwriter Craig Smith is an itinerant musician, originally from Christchurch, who performs around NZ and Australia. Craig now lives in Queenstown.

Scott Tulloch is the author-illustrator of the hilarious Too Much Poo, I Am Not a Worm! and The Silly Goat Gruff. He has also illustrated numerous Scholastic titles including Square Eyes, My Daddy Ate an Apple and How Does the Giraffe Get to Work? Scott is based in Wanaka in New Zealand's South Island, where he spends winters working in the ski industry.

This latest offering by the Wonky Donkey man himself, will have children screaming out answers to this question on every page!

- By the same team that brought you My Daddy Ate an Apple and Square Eyes
- The simple, repetitive lyrics build up the suspense on each page reveal
- Kids will love the surprise twist in the tale at the end!
- Great discussion starter on how everything is relative, depending on who/what/how big you are ...

Praise for Square Eyes

"Craig Smith (Wonky Donkey) serves up some good alternatives to watching TV here, which are humorously illustrated with Scott Tulloch's trademark animals." — ODT

"The book includes a CD and the catchy chorus will get the kids up and dancing. Smith is author of The Wonky Donkey and his humour continues to shine in Square Eyes." — Savvy Magazine

"Pop on the CD and get your wee pandas off the couch and up and dancing to the catchy song. This book/song will be a firm favourite at story-times, preschool and primary schools." — Magpies
